

FOUNDERS WEEK 2014

During Founders Week each fall, the University of Maryland, Baltimore (UMB) remembers a past that dates to 1807, honors some of those who are doing extraordinary work in the present, and looks toward the future with optimism, thanks to its groundbreaking, forward-thinking team.

Teamwork is this year's Founders Week theme, which is only fitting as collaboration and interdisciplinary research and education are hallmarks of the state's public academic health, law, and human services university. The UMB superstars who have been named the Founders Week Teacher, Public Servant, Entrepreneur, and Researchers of the Year exemplify that commitment to collaboration.

UMB is proud of the achievements of our world-class faculty, staff, and students, as well as the entrepreneurial and collaborative spirit that thrives on our campus. We thank all our UMB friends, colleagues, and partners for their ongoing support.
