Ruth Padel, PhD

1996, he was elected president of the Association of Professors of Medicine.

University School of Medicine from 1986 to 2001. The Hoboken, N.J., native served as president of the chairman of the department of medicine, vice president, and distinguished university professor at Temple York School of Medicine. Since training in Boston, Cohen has held several academic appointments...

Sidney Cohen, MD,

During the patient's final decade, his physical health improved markedly, with absence of "serious...

Late in life, his long white beard and sunken eyes gave him the look of "The Patriarch of the World."

The patient married a first cousin at age 30. She was deeply religious, whereas he was not, and some...

The patient was seen by over a score of England's most prominent physicians. Their diagnoses and...

The patient was a naturalist. He smoked cigarettes and cigars occasionally and was addicted to snuff, used several times a day from age 18. He drank brandy, wine and port in moderation. Walking was his...

The patient was a freelance writer and also taught opera in the department of modern Greek at Princeton. He...

poetry and penned a newspaper column on how to read contemporary poems. More recently Silent...

tragic texts to imagery of disease in the Hippocratic authors. Padel authored several books on reading...

England. She is a fellow of both the Royal Society of Literature and Zoological Society of London. Padel...

Ruth Padel is an award-winning British poet and writer, author of Darwin—A Life in Poems, an internationally acclaimed verse biography of her great-great-grandfather Charles Darwin. She is also...

Mozart and others. Following is the case history of this year's patient.

Dive Pathology, Microbiology and Bacteriology including clinical pathology and bacteriology as they interplay in medicine. On 27 February 1924, the 10th...

King College, MD, is professor of medicine and director of research at theJefferson School of Medical of Thomas, different degree in a PhD in Pathology. A renowned gastrointestinal pathologist, Cohen's research has...

decades centered on smooth muscle physiology and gastrointestinal motor function. He earned an undergraduate...

The patient was married and had two adult children, a daughter and a son, who lived locally. In his forties he...

This year's patient is a gentleman from England, born around 1750. He was the fourth child of a local...

"lumbago"), as well as boils and eczema of the face and hands. Interestingly, the fits of rheumatism and...

The patient was a naturalist. He smoked cigarettes and cigars occasionally and was addicted to snuff, used several times a day from age 18. He drank brandy, wine and port in moderation. Walking was his...

The patient was a freelance writer and also taught opera in the department of modern Greek at Princeton. He...

The patient was a freelance writer and also taught opera in the department of modern Greek at Princeton. He...

The patient was a freelance writer and also taught opera in the department of modern Greek at Princeton. He...

The patient was a freelance writer and also taught opera in the department of modern Greek at Princeton. He...