CGE Opportunities

Apply to be a GLOBALtime Teaching Fellow

The Center for Global Engagement (CGE) at UMB is pleased to announce applications for the 2020-2021 cohort of GLOBALtime Teaching Fellows. To support UMB faculty as they add global or comparative elements to their teaching, GLOBALtime Teaching Fellows enter into a year-long learning community and receive a $2,000 stipend. Two fellows who propose Collaborative Online International Learning (COIL) courses will also receive a $10,000 travel stipend. Please go to CGE's website for additional information, including our first cohort, application and Q&As. Applications are due May 21.

International Members of the UMB Family: Please share your reflections, practices, and pictures about COVID-19

To bring together our global UMB family during the COVID-19 crisis, Matthew "Dag" D'Agostino in Communications and Public Affairs and the Center for Global Engagement welcomes our community to share written reflections (even a single sentence) and photos that reflect how the pandemic is affecting them personally or at work, share pandemic control or treatment practices in your community, good or innovative ideas relating to the pandemic that you would like to share, or images of solidarity and community coming together. Matthew will bring together the submissions for a story that he will share with UMB and we hope to find other venues to share submissions (with the permission of the author). We all have stories—stories of resilience, of hard-earned experience, of grace—that can inform and support one another. Please send any reflections, photos, or questions to mdagostino@umaryland.edu. There is no deadline.

Special Call for COVID-19 Research Funding Applications

The UMB Institute for Clinical and Translational Research (ICTR) announces a special call for rolling voucher applications and Accelerated Translational Incubator Pilot (ATIP) Grant applications related to SARS-CoV-2 and COVID-19 clinical and translational research.
