

Type here to search...

- HOME
- SCHOOL OF PHARMACY
- CONNECT WITH US
- CONTACT US

HELPING HANDS: STUDENT PHARMACISTS CELEBRATE TEACHER APPRECIATION WEEK

- May 15, 2020
- Student Life
- Coronavirus, COVID-19, Helping Hands, Students, Teacher Appreciation Week
- ○
- ○
- ○

Editor's Note: This post is part of a series of Helping Hands stories authored by School of Pharmacy faculty, staff, students, trainees, and alumni who stepped up to assist their family and friends, colleagues, and communities during the COVID-19 pandemic.

The School of Pharmacy's Class of 2022 sent faculty a virtual "thank you" in recognition of Teacher Appreciation Week.

Teacher Appreciation Week v2

Helping Hands: Student Pharmacists Host First-Ever WebEx Last Lecture

Helping Hands: Zoom Meetings Reinforce Connections Between Faculty and Students

Leave a Reply

Your email address will not be published. Required fields are marked *