CONVOCATION SPEAKER

---

Pamela S. Hinds, PhD, RN, FAAN

Director, Department of Nursing Research & Quality Outcomes
Children's National Medical Center, Washington, D.C.
Professor, George Washington University

Dr. Pamela Hinds is currently director of the Department of Nursing Research and Quality Outcomes at Children's National Medical Center in Washington, D.C. She is also a professor of pediatrics at George Washington University and an adjunct professor at the University of Tennessee, College of Nursing; University of Pennsylvania School of Nursing; the Johns Hopkins University School of Nursing; and the University of Maryland School of Nursing.

As the immediate past director of nursing research at St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, a position she held for 23 years, Dr. Hinds had the privilege of creating and leading research related to hope and the pediatric cancer experience, quality of life, fatigue, and altered sleep during the treatment of pediatric cancers, as well as end-of-life communication and decision-making. She served on the Institute of Medicine's committee on End-of-Life and Palliative Care for Children in America and the National Quality Forum's panel on Palliative and End-of-Life Care in America. She is an Oncology Nursing Society Distinguished Nurse Researcher and the Association of Pediatric Oncology and Hematology Distinguished Nurse Researcher. Dr. Hinds currently serves on the National Cancer Institute's Symptom and Quality of Life Scientific Committee and is co-director of the Patient-Reported Outcomes Resource Center for the Children's Oncology Group. She is a member of the National Institute of Nursing Research's Ad Hoc Evaluation Advisory Committee, "End-of-Life and Palliative Care Science: a Needs Assessment of Federal and Private Research Funding Trends, Project Grants, and National Research Priorities," and serves as editor-in-chief for CANCER NURSING: An International Journal for Cancer Care.

Dr. Hinds and a devoted task force have spent many years exploring how to reduce the physical and spiritual suffering of patients, their families, and their clinicians, no matter the clinical outcome. She and her colleagues have sought innovative ways to improve patient quality of life, relieve symptoms, foster hope, and make certain that, as much as possible, the child's voice is included in end-of-life care decisions until the voice is no longer available.

Dr. Hinds received her undergraduate degree magna cum laude from the University of Vermont, and her MSN and PhD degrees from the University of Arizona, Tucson in psychiatric nursing (summa cum laude) and clinical nursing research, respectively.
